The New Rebellion.

We copy from the Morgantown Post an account of a rebel outrage on a congregation in that week ago. We are informed that a similar raid was made by a party of rebels a Sunday or two ago, on a church to the Relay was carried away. Large to the Relay was carried away. The Senate from being dead is more alive than ever; and they are encouraged by the bold ground taken by the New York platform and candidates, and backed by the President, to believe that the ascendency of the Government in the Southis to be overthrown by force and that the Government itself is to pass into the hands of the men who langurated the rebeliion. We are told that in those three states are creeping up.

The despised classes are creeping up.

The despised classes are creeping up. the rebellion. We are told that in those tonuties, every means, fair and foul, is already being used to induce men to vote with the Copperheads. For instance rebel ex-sheriffs who hold old claims against men in necessitous circumstances, ride about the country threatening to compel psyment unless they will vote the Copperhead ticket. Special pains are taken to persecute nd bedevil the registrars, who are so threatened and annoved that in many counties it is next to impossible to get

Yet strangely enough, it has hap-pened that when our people have begun to feel as if this restrictive legislation should be modified, the rebels themselves by their outrageous conduct have furnished such warnings as to imperatively postpone all thought of it. The indications are that in this campaign they will be more violent in the countles where they preponderate than at any time since the war. They ought to know that the Union people of the State never will consent to be ruled by them in their present temper, ruled by them in their present temper, and that the arrogance of their demand for an immediate voice in the Government can have no effect but to postpone whites as blacks. They hate the Bureau ment can have no effect but to postpone ment can have no effect but to postpone compliance with it. We must accept the issue these gentlemen make, viz, the emancipated blacks from the hatred that "secession is more alive than and oppression of their old masters;

Mr. Dawes, of Mass., has admin-istered a very just reproof to Mr. Jas. Brooks, member of Congress, from New York City. When the delegation from Alabama was sworn in Tuesday, Mr. Brooks took occasion to denominate them "carpet-baggers." Mr. Dawes replied that such a sneer came with bad himself a carpet-bagger from the State of Maine, who had been sent Congress from New York. The hit is more palpable, because Mr. Brooks was a strong anti-slavery man in Maine, but changed his opinions when he went to New "carpet-bagger."

Some gentlemen who attended the necessary in the premises, mass meeting at Hessville, Friday, tell us that between Mannington and Hessville are several tanneries by the road side which adopt a device very suga fine "Grant and Colfax" flag floats from a pole, and underneath the flag from a sort of spar is suspended a tanned hide. The declivity of country along the Patapsco is very great and the stream consequently rapid, but it is not easy to conceive a flood of sufficient power to sweep away the massive stone mills about Ellicott city. A party of Union men happened along soon after, and one of their number who had been a Union soldier tore down the Confederate rag.

We hear from all quarters that there has been a general revival in the border counties of the State, where the rebel element is in the ascendancy, of the old spirit of persecution and violence from which Union men there are, der counties of the State, where the rebel element is in the secendancy, of the old spirit of persecution and violence from which Union men there suffered so much before and during the rebellion. Had the rebels of this State borne themselves with becoming humility, it would have been very hard to keep on our statutes the restrictive expenses under the former were $11, laws of which they complain. Perhaps they would have been repealed before this. Had the rebels, therefore, been as shrewd as they have shown icals, or nearly double! Yet when the Legislature abolishes the office of county treasurer in order to diminish the "use less swarm," the Register is furlously mad, and declares "the people are no to be humbugged with any such show of reformation." The Great Flood at Baltimore.

The great flood at and in the vicinity of Baltimore last Friday, was one of the most remarkable on record. For suddenness and violence, loss of life and destruction of property in so small an extent of territory, we can recall nothing to equal it. The loss of property in the city is enormous; but the violence of the flood and the loss of life, along the Patansco were fearful. The

We suppose that there have been twenty thousand dollars worth of telegrams sent over the Atlantic caole concerning his whereacouts and nisdonings. He is certainly making the most of his intlevet ries. It is as Cariyas says—the world will have its hroes; and if there are no real ones, it worships sham ones. Farragut is the nearest approach to a hero that the Federal may urned out during the late war, and so he has to stand lor the genuine article."

It seems a pity that the evil spirit east from this end of the road to assist

It would seem that the letter of Mr. Blair and the action of the New York Convention worked upon these men like a bugle blast upon an old warhorse; they flung away at once all peaceful notions, and began to cry out anew the old war cry of a "white man's government."
